
The derived MSAVI product used previously collapses all nine bands to one number. The red-edge bands track chlorophyll and the SWIR bands track canopy water — independent stress channels that a single greenness index cannot represent.