
This field is in the held-out set — the detector was never fitted on it, and its threshold was learned from its own earlier, clean observations.