The input: field 556 through the 2019 season

25 cloud-screened passes, 5 shown, on a shared 2nd–98th percentile stretch. The detector consumes the field-level statistics of these rasters, not the pixels. No detections are drawn: the synthetic stress lives in the feature table, not in this imagery, so marking alarms here would imply the model saw something it did not.

